

New Midland Station Temporary Bus Interchange

To allow for construction of the permanent bus interchange as part of the New Midland Station Project, the existing bus interchange will close. A temporary bus interchange will open on Sunday, 11 May.

The temporary bus interchange will be located in front of the current Midland Station on the site of the former car park.

Services will continue without interruption, but some timetables will be slightly adjusted to allow for additional walking time; however, these changes are not expected to take effect on the first day.

Passenger amenities

Pedestrian routes to bus stands will be clearly signposted

CCTV

Covered bus shelters at each stand

Security staff
